REACH Statement

Fulfillment of the information obligation according to Article 33 of Regulation (EC) No. 1907/2006 (REACH)

REACH is a new European Union regulation on the Registration, Evaluation, Authorization and Restriction of Chemicals. This regulation came into force on June 1, 2007 and replaces a number of previous EU regulations and directives with a single, uniform system. The obligations laid down in this regulation will gradually come into force by 2018.

The REACH regulation stipulates that manufacturers and importers of chemical substances may be obliged to either register the substances they use or import and/or provide their customers with information on certain substances designated as Substances of Very High Concern (SVHC).

The company IC-Direct GmbH deals exclusively with non-chemical products (articles, Article 3(3) Directive 1907/2006 and Article 2(9) Directive 1272/2008 Directive 1907/2006). These articles do not release substances of very high concern under normal and reasonably foreseeable conditions of use (Article 7(1)).

The European Chemicals Agency ECHA has published a list of substances of very high concern on its website:

<https://echa.europa.eu/list-of-substances-subject-to-pops-regulation>

However, companies must inform the purchasers of articles if a so-called "substance of very high concern" is contained in a supplied product at a level of more than 0.1% by mass.

Article 33 only prescribes information in the event that a substance on the candidate list is contained in the article at a level of more than 0.1% by mass. To the best of our current knowledge, our delivery products do not contain any substances on the candidate lists.

If information is required as to whether substances on the candidate list are contained in supplied products above 0.1% by mass, we would like to point out that this cannot be provided at present, as investigations must first be carried out with our suppliers.

We will fulfill the requirements imposed on us by REACH and in the event of changes to our delivery products as a result of REACH, we will inform you within the framework of our business relationships and coordinate suitable measures with you in individual cases.
